LEE TUNG AVENUE presents inaugural Mid-Autumn LED Fire Dragon
Fiesta @LEE TUNG AVENUE
Reinventing traditional Mid-Autumn Festival & appreciating full moon altogether

[Hong Kong – 30 August, 2016] Enjoy a distinctive yet traditional Mid-Autumn Festival at LEE TUNG AVENUE in Wan Chai. Decorated in a traditional tenement house during Mid-Autumn Festival theme in 1950s, which featuring thousands of multi-coloured, Begonia-shaped lanterns hanging along the walkway. It will once again become the best photo spot in town!

To crown the festive celebrations, LEE TUNG AVENUE presents inaugural Mid-Autumn LED Fire Dragon Fiesta @LEE TUNG AVENUE from 14 to 16 September (the day before till after Mid-Autumn Festival). The fiesta is the dancing debut of a 70-foot LED-lighted dragon across the tree-lined walkway from Queen's Road East entrance to Johnston Road entrance, bringing auspicious wishes to residents of Wan Chai area and visitors by reinventing this traditional annual festival in a creative and cultural-inspiring manner.

Inducted as a Chinese cultural heritage, the fire dragon dancing custom in Mid-Autumn Festival is a cohesive gesture in villages for blessing of peace across family and community. This year, LEE TUNG AVENUE integrate fusions of old and new for reshaping traditional culture with modern technology in the form of 70-foot, LED-lighted fire dragon. A production with colourful LED lights attached on the faucet, body and pearl of dragon, the LED-lighted fire dragon offers a warm flash across the walkway and creates a joyful atmosphere through its LEE TUNG AVENUE parade guided by drum sound and pearl of dragon. This ensures residents and visitors can closely enjoy the lively LED-lighted, joss-stick-free fire dragon performance without worrying the potential hazard of firecrackers, and parents can take the opportunity to introduce the origin and myth of Mid-Autumn Festival during this reinvented, environmental and family-friendly parade.

Apart from enjoying the LED-lighted fire dragon parade, LEE TUNG AVENUE is more than a landmark of Wan Chai, but also an ideal place for family gathering under the bright moon. With a collection of alfresco cafes and gourmet restaurants along the tree-lined walkway, customers will be impressed with the dinner gathering idea highlighted by appreciating the bright moon and wishing for the best of family reunion.
